

Monday Morning Memo – 04.12.2021

Dear Wider Horizons Members and Friends,

Wider Horizons Events and Information this Week

1. Thursday Morning's Zoom with Sue Lerner and Debbie Ward will happen, as always, at 9:30 am. A preview is attached. Hint: Question 2 focuses on the upcoming mayoral election. Sue will send out the link on Wednesday.
2. Our story tellers and listeners will gather, as is our custom, this Friday afternoon at 4 pm. Our story line-up includes new griots Ellen Berg, Susan Adler, and one TBD person. This is the Zoom link and I'll send it out again later in the week with more info:

3. Book Group tomorrow (Tuesday) at 10:30 am sharing thoughts on Overstory. All are welcome:

4. Want to organize/lead a group of bakers who bake break for local food banks, Breader Together? Let me know and I'll connect you with a member who is doing this.
5. Attached is the packet for today's meeting of our Board of Directors. Many interesting attachments for you to peruse. Feel free to call one of the Board members (but not between 11:30 and 2 pm today!) to talk about whatever intrigues you.
6. Welcome new member Marge Lepley! Her bio will be posted on the website, but here is a taste from a profile co-authored by Marge and Kathleen O'Connor: Marge has been involved in community service for decades. She was an early member of the Curriculum Committee for Leadership Tomorrow, a program sponsored by United Way and the Greater Seattle Chamber of Commerce to support the development of emerging civic leaders. She was also president of the local chapter of the national training & development professional association. Marge's main community interest, however, is social justice.
7. I'll close by sharing an article (attached) sent to me by a friend. It may help you to understand those of us who are introverts and helps to explain why not everybody loves to Zoom! Though we can all agree that for many of us, it has been a wonderful addition to our toolkit.

Enjoy the predicted excellent weather this week. At last, some good gardening! The cold winds have defeated me this week.

Yours,

Denise
